

3 Harvest Crop from 1500 Acres

Two men and a boy harvest a crop of 1500 acres in Montana.

Information of this accomplishment was received by County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore and County Clerk Howard W. Lee from M. J. O'Neill, former Rock county road contractor who is now manager of the Sun, River and Slope farm near Great Falls, Mont.

O'Neill and his son William O'Neill took over a 1500 acre tract of land which they bought or leased from the government on reclamation service in Montana. The feat of the planting and harvest was with the use of tractors and the threshing with the combined harvester and threshing machine. The harvest started on August 4 and was finished Sept. 24, the three men only losing one and one-half days from unfavorable weather conditions.

The combined harvester used by them has a tractor built into the machine for propelling it and gives no special motive power. The youngest son Robert is 13 years of age. The three did the work alone even to putting the grain in the granary without outside help. They plan to put in the entire acreage next year.

O'Neill writes to the Rock county highway commissioners for data on road building to improve the methods used in construction used in Montana. Information is used on the present conditions of highways built by O'Neill here a few years ago. Methods used near Great Falls, O'Neill writes, cost $7,000 a mile for a gravel surface. Army trucks are used and the road material slid out the back end and then bucked down with a scraper. The former Janesville resident seeks to have them use clay for a "blinder" together with the gravel and to use a roller in the surface work.

JOY IS KEYNOTE OF YULETIDE SERVICES

Joy was the keynote of the morning service at the Baptist church yesterday, and the pastor, Rev. Royce G. Pierson, preached a stirring Christmas sermon, on the message delivered by the angels on Christmas morning, "Be not afraid, I bring you glad tidings of great joy."

Taking as his topic "The question: 'What are these glad tidings?'" he placed first that of the gift to the world of Jesus Christ himself, who put new joy into life, by being a friend to all. Then Jesus brought good tidings to the world about mankind, showing that they were brothers all, whether poor or rich. Then he taught people to cast out fear, worry or doubt which is the poison of the soul. He which is the poison of the soul, God is your father, and his disciples were known as the "children of joy."

"Last of all men celebrate Christmas," he said, "because Christ brought the hope of immortality to mankind, so that they can look upon death as a journey to the city of God, where they will be welcomed as to a home coming. These things have made possible the Christmas joy."

His talk to the children as a prelude to the services was a timely one on the miracle, and the part it played in the festivities, by reason of its association in the hearts of the children of a dozen voices, directed by Mrs. A. Schaller, was beautiful. Mrs. Schaller sang a duet with Alfred Olson.

The Christmas decorations arranged by the class of Miss Mary Barker, in place and were simple but tasteful. Christmas trees flanked the pulpit and baskets and wreaths of holly were zipped but tasteful. Christmas trees flanked the pulpit and baskets and wreaths of holly were displayed about the choir loft and the platform.

A special program was given in the evening. It consisted of organ prelude, Miss Ada Pond; Scripture and Prayer, Mr. Pierson; pictures, "China" anthem, "How Lovely on the Mountains," choir; pictures, "By Their Fruits," solo, "Virgin's Lullaby," Mrs. F. Burroughs; violin solo, "The Old Refrain," Miss E. Welch; pictures, "The Good Samaritan," offertory, "Cantique, D'Amour," anthem, "The Blessed Virgin," choir; anthem and solo, "The Christmas Message," chorus; and Miss Lorene Bowler; violin Miss E. Welch, postlude, choir.

METHODISTS FEEL CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

A most inspiring interpretation of the oration, "The Holy City," by A. B. Gaul, was given at the Methodist church last evening before a large audience. It was a genuine treat to music lovers, and was given in a impressive way by soloists and a large chorus of 40 voices directed by Miss Florence Snyder.

Miss Snyder sang in a trio, "I Shall Come to Pass," with Mrs. J. R. Nichols and Mrs. S. F. Richards. Mrs. Richards was heard in two solos, "Eye

Hath Not Seen" and "Come Ye Blessed," Mrs. Nichols sang a soprano solo, "These Are They Who Come Out of Great Tribulation," Mrs. S. F. Richards sang two solos, "My Soul Is Athirst for God," and "To the Lord Belong Mercies." She also sang a duet, "They Shall Hunger No More," with Miss Lu Ealverson. Solos were given by E. E. Van Pool, who sang "No Shadows, Yonder," and Frank Doane with "List, the Cherubim Host," and Dr. J. Snodgrass in "Behold, I Great New Heavens and Earth."

The whole thing was so reverent and interpreted that it formed a very beautiful Christmas message as a prelude to the Christmas season. The director, Miss Florence Snyder, and the accompanist, Mrs. F. T. Richards, were entitled to great credit.

14 YEAR OLD BOY HAS PRIZE TOBACCO

Rock county's prize tobacco for 1920 was grown by a 14-year-old boy, Russell Connor, Milton. He had an acre of it, which he grew as a school project for Union High School, Milton. At the Janesville fair he was awarded first prize out of all exhibits. The tobacco has a very fine quality leaf of good size.

C. of C. Manager Gets Message by Wireless

"Your letter received. Wish you success in your new position."

The above may sound like the ordinary telegram but it is a wireless relay message of the American Radio Relay League received Saturday by L. O. Holman, manager of the Chamber of Commerce of this city. The radiogram was sent from Fairmont, W. Va., and received by R. H. Maxson at his wireless station at Milton, Wis., and then forwarded by mail. The American Radio Relay League is an organization of amateur wireless telegraph operators of the United States with headquarters at Hartford, Conn. Operator Maxson of Milton is a member. The message referred to was sent by Mr. Holman's nephew in West Virginia by a series of relays from one part of the country to another until it was finally dispatched by mail because there is no member of the league in this city.

Accompanying the message was the following letter:

"We are enclosing a radiogram received this morning for you as there is no radio station in Janesville for us to send it to and we are obliged to mail same. There are no charges for this service and we will be pleased to handle any messages for you to go by Amateur Radio Route if you will mail same to us."

"Y" ICE SKATING RINK READY SOON

Work of Converting "Y" Tennis Court Into Pond, Being Pushed.

Janesville skating lovers will be glad to learn that there will be at least one rink where they may enjoy this popular winter sport this year. Physical Director A. E. Bergman of the Y. M. C. A. is making a rink on the tennis courts of the "Y" at Milwaukee and Louisa streets. The house and judging stand have been removed and a deep furrow has been plowed around the edges of the lot which will give skaters a pond of 100 x 114 feet. A room for conducting a hockey game.

Several loads of sawdust have been placed over the top of the ground and the street and fire departments have offered to flood the lot when it is ready which will be in the near future. A thin layer of water was sprayed on Saturday.

It is planned by Mr. Bergman to erect a warming house on the grounds for the skaters if the rink is used to great extent.

Arrangements have been made to have a team from the Milwaukee Hockey League, one of the best in the country, give an exhibition on the tennis rink here soon against a picked team of Janesville hockey stars.

PARDON IS ASKED FOR DARK VAMPIRE

Prospective wooers replied they were sent other photographs of the same white girl with letters which carried the full charm of a love inspired pen. The next letter, apparently brought a request for railroad fare in order that the supposed white girl would meet her lover and be wedded. When the money was forthcoming, it is alleged, the Burlington woman then played her trick card by sending the expectant bridegroom a real photograph of herself, rapidly changing her complexion from very white to an ebony black. A refusal to marry because of her color then brought a letter from Mrs. Burlington that she would sue for breach of promise. Settlement was demanded and it is charged white men from various parts of the country were made victims of the mail courtships.

Mixed Family

Henry Burlington came to wed the colored woman through a similar advertisement. When he learned her color he went to her home and rather than face the threatened breach of promise suit he married her and she accepted his seven white children.

The white and black family moved to Dill, Wis., and it is claimed Mrs. Burlington intended to sue and did not advise her claims for some time. Her former husband remarried and the former wife of Burlington also remarried a man named Ole Elvesson. Mr. and Mrs. Elvesson also came to Dill and the two families lived near each other.

Advertisements began to appear in "Cupid's Column" of a St. Paul matrimonial paper and the old plan started working again. The postal authorities caught the Mrs. Burlington after it is charged that men from as far as Florida, Oregon and Maine had sought the hand and love of the beautiful white girl, each only to find that he had a dusky maiden ready to join him in the bonds of wedlock.

Pleading Guilty

She pleaded guilty when the government had 15 witnesses to appear against her. They had been victims of advancing railroad fare.

In her petition to the president Mrs. Burlington alleges that Jennie Burlington, the white daughter of her husband caused the advertisements to appear and signed them Margaret Arnold, which was the Burlington woman's maiden name. Mrs. Elvesson, the former wife of Burlington, is charged with being implicated in the scheme. The negro woman declares she had practically no knowledge of the fraud worked by them and that at their requests she signed and endorsed the checks which were received. She alleges she only received nominal sums and that Jennie Burlington and Mrs. Elvesson were the brains behind the scheme.

Blame Daughters

Another white daughter of Burlington, Louise May Burlington is alleged to have collected the mail and distributed it to the two other women and they required the defendant to endorse the checks under threats of trouble. The colored woman alleged "she did not comprehend the full magnitude of the offense" to which she was giving aid and encouragement.

Mrs. Burlington was arraigned before the U. S. court commissioner, S. D. Tallman, in Janesville last summer before she was sent to jail to await action by the federal grand jury.

Child in Jail

Although less than a year old, the baby of Margaret Burlington has spent more than half of his life behind bars. In the Dane county jail the child plays around the bars and cell fixtures, apparently unconcerned of his fate of being in jail. Unwittingly the babe has proven instrumental in keeping the mother out of the federal prison.

The Burlington woman cannot be released because of the death of Judge A. L. Sanborn. The child presents a difficult problem for the county officials to solve.

Plan With Bars

"It sure is going to seem funny to the boy when he sees the light of day after being cooped up in jail for six months of the ten months of his life," remarked the mother as she cared for the dusky child from the edge of her cell cot. "It sure is bad here. The sheriff is a nice man. The kid sometimes bumps his head on the bars," she explained, pointing to the red marks on the child's forehead. She has named the boy Kenneth Burlington.

There is no judge on the federal bench of the district since the death of Judge Sanborn.

Phelps explained that he merely said to Tatman: "Hello, fish!" and then threw a punch at him. Tatman is called "fish" by others about the place, Phelps alleges.

FIREBUG ACTIVE AS TROOPERS LEAVE

Fayette City, Pa., Dec. 20.—The firebug operating in Fayette and West Moreland counties for two months early today fired a big burst and two residences here. The barn was destroyed with a loss of $30,000 but the houses were saved. Total losses at the time of the burning to date exceed half a million dollars.

The barn, which belonged to Andrew Brown, president of the Fayette City National Guard, was unable to save it or its contents. Later fire was discovered at the residence of George Starks, but it was quickly extinguished. The residence of Fred Dryer, former member of the Fayette City council, was fired but by this time the community was aroused and the fire was put out.

Troopers of the state police on guard since the incendiary epidemic started, were withdrawn Saturday, leaving Fayette City without special protection. Taking advantage of the situation, the firebug obstructed the road which would be traversed by a fire company from Charlot with barbed wire and other obstacles.

It was necessary for the Charlot fire company to team them away before proceeding here.

Kris Kringle is visiting or will visit all the country schools in Rock county before the night of Dec. 25. Lack of snow has failed to daunt the merry old man from the North Pole from appearing in the school buildings, brightening up a tree and in most instances giving out presents to the pupils and people of the district school community.

In several instances the school Christmas celebration has been enlarged to be made a community affair and attended by a number of people. This will be true notably in Afton where the entire village will participate in the exercises.

Trees are donated by the pupils and only wait for the magic touch of the

KENTUCKY WHISKEY HERE FROM CANADA

Importations into United States
First Sent to Dominion for Medicine.

(Special to Gazette.)
Milwaukee, Dec. 19.—In connection with the landing of a shipment of whiskey from Canada at Kenosha this week, the observations of Ben H. Spencer, head of the Dominion Anti-Saloon league, are interesting.

It has just completed a tour of the lake from Toronto via Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee and the Twin Cities to Manitoba, investigating liquor smuggling. He reports much of the whiskey now being smuggled from Canada into the United States as first shipped from the United States to Canada, ostensibly for "medical purposes only." He had copies of two orders typical of orders being received today. One from a Montreal firm to a firm in Kentucky read: "Please ship us at once, for medicinal purposes, 50,000 cases of whiskey." The second, "You allow export for medical purposes. Liquor shipped over to sick Canadians is under a special license. It is aggregated 40,313 cases in 25 carloads. Shortly thereafter along your international boundary line they began to find the old Crow whiskey. It was shipped from Montreal to Detroit. It was set out on a sliding unit at telephone order. Upon examination by our officers they found 124 cases of old Crow whiskey, having come across for our poor sick Canadians, now going back to make you Americans sick.

Can Export Liquor.
"In Canada prohibition is by action of the state or province. We have no such thing as national prohibition. Therefore there is no prohibition on the manufacture of liquor for export, and our Canadian liquor dealers are also shipping their own product into the States. It is for the purpose of laying the matter before parliament this winter that I have been collecting data, and hope to secure Canadian action which will assist us in preventing this source of supply for illicit liquor in the United States."

Commenting on the action of the federal grand jury at Milwaukee in asking that beer and wine be legalized, he said: "This is now being tried out in the province of Quebec, with the result that the brewery stocks went up from $25 to $50. It is a fine thing for the brewers. It gives them a monopoly. Formerly people took about half of their alcohol in the form of beer and the other half in the form of spirits. Now they just drink twice as much beer."

Brewers Making Money.
"While it is a fine thing for the brewers' pocketbooks, it is a bad thing for the tax-payers' pocketbooks, as drunkenness has doubled and arrests have doubled. Convictions for drunkenness have increased from 4,231 to 8,453; disorderly houses from 455 to 721; home evictions from 48 to 274. The whole beer and wine propaganda is a propaganda in favor of the brewery profiteers."

JUDA MAN FIGURES IN DARING DESCENT

(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Juda, W. A. Wendt, former resident of Juda now residing in Hawaii, was one of a party of four who made a daring descent into Waimanalo, the giant volcano in the Palolo valley. Two of the party came near losing their lives in a landslide, according to newspaper reports received by Juda friends at Wendt who is teaching on the islands.

The trip up the high mountains of the valley is the first undertaken in several years. It is considered to be one of the most difficult and dangerous in Hawaii.

The party which made the trip consisted of J. D. Cadde, W. A. Wendt, E. B. Olson and I. D. Merrill. Ropes were used to scale over the sharp cliffs. On the last cliff the party was required to use belts, cauteen straps and other improved ropes in order to reach the bottom, their combined ropes not being long enough to reach it.

Wagon, S. H. Tobey, superintendent of Wausau schools and chairman of the legislative committee of Wisconsin Teachers' association, appointed a committee to report at a meeting in Milwaukee Dec. 20.

RED CROSS NURSE DOES MUCH TOWARD HEALTH BETTERMENT

Miss Alice Glenn at the meeting of the board of directors of the Red Cross chapter of the American Red Cross, gave a brief report of her work since last March as public health nurse in the city schools and homes. More than 2,500 children in public and parochial schools of Janesville were examined by her for poor teeth and other physical defects. Hundreds of visits were made by her to the home of the children for consultation with the parents with a view to having these defects corrected. Miss Glenn found that one-fifth of the children in the schools are under weight and that 20 are 20 per cent overweight.

Janine, gown and blankets have been loaned in several instances by the Red Cross to families in cases of sickness. The course which was presented to Miss Glenn by the Anti-Tuberculosis association, has been of great service in increasing the amount of work which she is able to do. Miss Glenn is preparing a report of the work which the public health service has accomplished since its establishment.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL

$15,000 Structure to House
Pupils of Three Districts.

Plans have been completed for the type of school building to be erected by consolidated districts 1, 2 and 3, town of Janesville, to cost $15,000. All that remains before operations are commenced next spring is to have the industrial commission approve the site, which is located on the Milton Junction road.

Wednesday night a box social will be held at Russell's creamery to raise funds toward the cost of furniture for the new building.

The structure will be a one story affair with two large class rooms and a spacious basement. It will have rooms for manual training and domestic science and an assembly hall 20x40 feet, with a stage, and in which town meetings may be held. The building will be completed by September 1, next year.

In defraying the cost, the state will give $500 for each of the consolidated districts, or a total of $1,500. The balance will be borrowed from the state for a period of 16 years at 4 per cent.

Officers of the school district are: A. G. Russell, clerk and C. B. Schumaker, treasurer; board of directors, those two and R. A. Bruce, general committee; three already mentioned and W. E. Schumaker and E. W. Dutton.

TWO YOUNG MEN ARE WANTED FOR NAVAL ACADEMY

Congressman Clifford E. Randall announces that he has two appointments to make for midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, as well as two alternates for each vacancy. He has arranged with the civil service commission of Wisconsin to hold preliminary examinations for him at county seats in the four congressional district on February 12, 1921.

Midshipmen are furnished quarters by the government and are paid $780 per year, and receive a further allowance for rations. Graduates immediately become commissioned officers. Candidates must be citizens of the United States and residents of the district; over sixteen and not more than twenty years of age at the date of admittance to Annapolis.

Any young man who desires to take this examination is requested to write the Civil Service Commission, Madison, Wisconsin, for application blanks and information. Mr. Randall will be glad to send copy of the regulations governing the admittance of candidates, and sample examinations to any young man who will write him at Washington, giving his name, age and postoffice address.

Silver Candelabra of Commander Perry's Given to Annapolis

New York.—A silver candelabra, a gift to Commander Perry from the business men of Shanghai and Hongkong, China, after his famous voyage to the Orient in 1823 and 1824, has just been presented to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis by Perry Tiffany of New York, grandson of the commander. The candelabra, which has been in the family's possession since Commander Perry's death in 1858, was given by Mr. Tiffany in memory of his grandfather and his long naval career. The gift was made by the merchants of the Chinese cities in appreciation of the American naval officer's visit to their country and his efforts to promote friendship between the United States and the Far East. The candelabra is an elaborate affair, consisting of 17 branches with a spread of 32 inches.

WAREHOUSES HERE BEGIN TO RECEIVE 1920 TOBACCO CROP

Several lots of 1920 tobacco were received by the warehouses of Janesville during the past week. However, it is stated here that it will not be until the first of the year before sorting will be under full swing in the local houses. Several loads were seen downtown Saturday.

The market continues quiet. No sales were reported during the week. As more of the crop is bunched by the growers, it is stated that the quality of the leaf this season is as good as the average, but that the leaves are short. Where the long drought of the summer hit, the tobacco is said by dealers to be worth nothing more than for filler.

Investigation of the crops in this vicinity shows that the poorest was out on the Milton Junction road, where the drought hit hardest. The finest has been seen east of Poolville. The quality is reported as good around Brodhead, Sharon and Bergen.

Oshkosh.—S. Maddy, resident of Oshkosh for 40 years, died here at the age of 74. He was a member of the crew of the first train on the St. Paul road, to enter Oshkosh. For the last 21 years he was connected with the municipal court.

Sheet Metal Class in Port Vocational School

(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Port Alderson.—A course of instruction of peculiar value is now being given here under the Vocational Board in connection with the night school work. This is a course in sheet metal work and plans Christiansen, an expert in this line of work, has the class in charge. At present the class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, taking up the work of drafting. After the holidays the men will meet in Mr. Christiansen's shop where the practical work will be demonstrated. It is a trade in which the supply of laborers is always less than the demand and is thus of great value to those taking it.

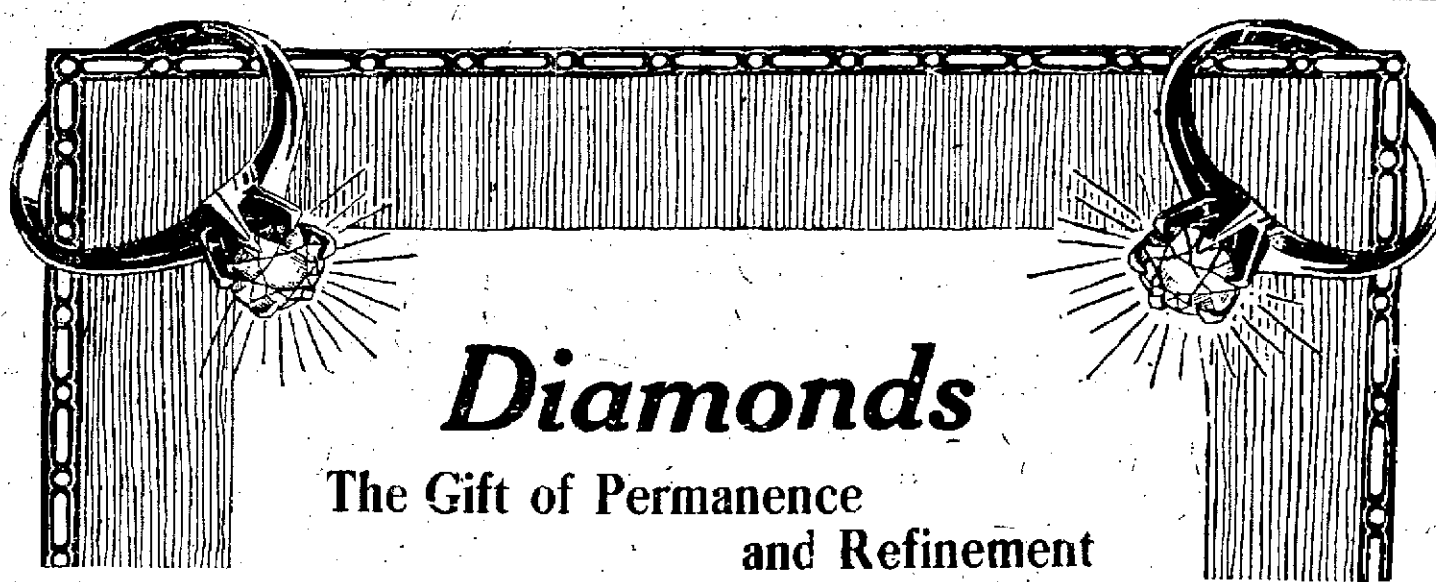

Green Day.—Unless some action is taken by the city council within the next two weeks, Green Day will be without a mayor. Elmer G. Hall's resignation takes effect December 30, and as yet no candidates have appeared. None of the politicians is anxious for the job. The term of office expires within three months and the majority would rather wait until the spring election.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Badger University Leads Country
In Pushing Outdoor Winter Sports

Madison, Dec. 20.—The winter sport season will open at Wisconsin after the holidays with a program of events that will make the Badger school leader of the country according to the athletic department of the university. With favorable weather conditions, the season is expected to furnish the greatest variety of sport in years.

Hockey, skiing, tobogganing, ice-boating, and organized hiking, are all extensively planned. Added developments during the past summer have favored the outdoor winter pastimes. Coach T. E. Jones said.

"The Norwegian club, composed of students from Norway has done much to promote interest in winter sports at Wisconsin," Coach Jones declared. "It has brought skiing forward as one of the most popular winter events."

Hockey meets are planned with the Michigan School of Mines, St. Johns Military academy and probably one or more conference schools. A ski tournament is to be held during February, with a meet planned against Minnesota.

The fifth annual ice carnival, with bonnet making, skating events, and the introduction of a girls' costume display, according to Coach Jones, the favorite winter festival, one of the most elaborate affairs of the kind in the country, it was said.

New Big Ski Jump
A 40 foot ski jump was built this fall and is ready for use as soon as there is sufficient snow fall, the athletic department announced. The jump has been built on Observatory Hill and is expected to serve as one of the biggest drawing cards of student interest during the winter months. The new jump has been built on the side of the hill, and has been turfed.

A special hockey rink will be made on the lower campus of the university, it was said, in order to have it free from use by the general skaters.

Cornell smashed high single score of 238. Perkins was second with 223.

WILLIAMS FLASHES

Milwaukee, Dec. 20.—A whirlwind finish enabled the Wisconsin university basketball team to score a victory over the Marquette university Saturday night, 23 to 18.

Although the Hilltoppers outplayed their opponents in the first half and were leading by 14 to 9 when the period ended, they were unable to keep the pace, and conditions, class, and experience soon had their tolling effects.

LOOKING FORWARD TO IMPROVEMENT

Belief That There Will Be Better Business Conditions About First of Year.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 20.—Business conditions throughout the United States are none too good but the frank expectation of official Washington is that improvement will begin to be noted about the first of the year. Not since the depression of December, 1914, when the outbreak of the European war played havoc with American commerce, has attention been so closely fastened upon the national business situation. And while officials in the treasury and the various government bureaus, whose contact with business is close, express the opinion that there has been some justification for pessimism, the universal judgment seems to be that conditions have been made worse by pessimistic talk as well as by the hastily expressed opinion of would-be economists in business men's clubs and other places where commercial men gather. In other words, the government—meaning most of the officials of influence in it—have told the writer that the present depression is in large part psychological. It was stimulated by psychological factors and is being maintained by psychological influences. And incidentally such predictions as Senator Penrose has made from his isolation at Atlantic City concerning the "hard" times ahead do not sit well on either republicans or democrats who believe it is the duty of the members of congress to ease calamity howling and give attention to the tariff and other economic measures which may afford quick relief in this period of readjustment.

Not a Political Situation. However, the questions involved are not political and the attitude which the government in all its branches is taking toward the business situation is non political. Just as many demands have come from the democratic south as from the republicans west for relief measures and the relief measures and the democratic administration has had the support of leading republicans in congress in refusing to sanction wild-cat remedies.

The most striking fact which impresses itself on the investigator here is the almost unanimous judgment that the "retailer is blocking the game." It is contended that in the midst of a falling market, when the farmers and manufacturers find it necessary to take lower prices for their wares, the cost of goods sold in the retail stores is not materially reduced. The farmers insist that they cannot take lower prices because his cost of living has not declined.

Defense of Retailer. But in defense of the retailer who bought his goods at high prices and feels that he must get rid of them somewhere near original cost, the opinion is volunteered again and again that while the retailer may generously take some losses on the goods which he has on his shelves, he cannot afford to take much of a chance when rent and labor and fuel and other items that enter into his overhead show little sign of coming down. If the retailer is blocking the readjustment, therefore, it is said in his behalf that the reasons are to be found in the cost of clerical labor and light and heat and street car fares and delivery wagons and kindred items.

Not Uniform Reduction. The trouble about any period of readjustment is that all things do not move downward uniformly. But such institutions as the federal reserve board express themselves as ever so much more satisfied with the situation today than a year ago. Twelve months ago, members of the board say, they didn't know when the drop would come or how hard the fall would be. Now the bottom has been reached and it is much easier to deal with an upward curve than a downward slide.

Not a word has come from the federal reserve board to justify the rumor but business men hereabouts are beginning to feel confident that the board will reduce the rediscount rate about the first of the year and that money will then be more plentiful.

Labor is naturally uneasy and is fighting hard against wage reductions but laws greater than more desire are operating in the business situation today. Just as the consumers have been carrying on a virtual strike for months insisting that they would go without certain goods until prices came down, so have manufacturers simply been forced to close down and lay off until wages came down to levels that permit business to operate on a living scale.

Trifling Howard. In the process of readjustment there are many who feel the pinch, particularly those who refused to heed the government's warnings and did not provide for times of plenty. Some people who have practiced too much thrift and have insisted that prices go down practically to pre-war levels may be better off, however, for the stoppage of production in many commodities in the last few months may result in a sharp upward trend of prices after the first of the year. This is not expected to be true of many products, but it will be discovered when buying is resumed that which haven't been manufactured for some time and naturally the law of supply and demand will make some prices high. Psychology plays an important part in forcing prices up as well as down.

Change for the better in the entire situation may be expected after Christmas when the big clearance sales everywhere will begin and the retailer will play his part in the readjustment process but the return of sound prosperity and stable business conditions cannot be looked for until some of the big manufacturing concerns take the initiative. It will be a matter of leadership. Wise business men have rarely missed these opportunities. But the big fact is that the worst is over and the whole psychological current here reflects an expectation of a new era of profit making in which business will go forward on a sounder and better basis. And the feeling is that the era will begin in the next month or so, and be accentuated in the spring.

Building Boom Expected. Building operations, of course, usually begin in the early spring but it is fully expected that throughout the entire country a real start will then be made in eliminating the shortage of houses. Building materials are dropping. When they get low enough to tempt people to build, rents will naturally come down. Rents have been high because new houses have been few. When rents begin to topple, the average working man will be relieved of one of the most painful items in his cost of living. The whole situation is inter-related but the downward movement of prices will have its greatest compensations in the first months of the new year. That's the best judgment of most men in the government.

Abraham's Wells Now Have Modern Pumps. Beersheba, Palestine.—Abraham's wells are now equipped with modern pumping machinery, and are supplying water to the town. According to ancient tradition, there were seven wells of Beersheba, but at present only three are known, which from time immemorial have been used by the Bedouins to water their flocks. The original "Well of the Oath" was dug by Abraham, as described in the Book of Genesis.

Father Olson Is Cupid's Best Aid In City

Rev. Father Charles Olson, of the St. Mary's church, leads all other clergymen in Janesville in the number of marriages performed, according to records at the county treasurer's office.

Collection of fees are being made by the ministers and physicians in Rock county for the reporting of marriages and births to the vital statistics department of the state.

For each marriage or birth reported, the state pays a nominal sum through the county. The clergymen receive 25 cents for each marriage, the physicians are paid 25 cents for reporting a birth to the health officer or township officials and the health officer draws 20 cents for filing the complete reports.

Father Olson married 25 couples during the last year, for which he received $6.25 from the state. Rev. R. G. Pierson of the Baptist church was second, having 21 ceremonies and receiving $5.25. Rev. J. A. McInnes received $4.75 for 19 marriages; Rev. P. J. Lewis, Methodist minister, $4.25 for 17 marriages; Father J. Decker had 13 ceremonies.

Dr. Fred Welch, Janesville, received $14.50 for reporting the Janesville births, and Dr. L. M. Field of Beloit, received $17.50, showing the statistician more visits to Beloit than it did to Janesville in the last year.

MILLERAND ORDERS
AERIAL LIMOUSINE.
HIS WIFE OBJECTS

Paris.—President Millerand, despite the earnest contrary advice of Madame Millerand, is reported to have ordered an airplane limousine for the purpose of making official visits to foreign capitals and cities in the provinces.

Should the report prove to be founded it will mean a departure in the mode of traveling of presidents in France and the permanent side-tracking of the presidential train. A regular squadron will have to be provided for the presidential suite and the 50 or so journalists who accompany the president on all his trips from Paris.

Some newspapers call the president's attention to the fact that a fall from the window of his aerial limousine would have more terrible results than leaning too far out of the train window, referring to the accident to the former President Paul Deschanel.

Marquette Co. Makes Record in Land Clearing

Marquette.—After clearing 13,000 acres of land in 1920, thereby establishing a world's record, Marquette county through the Marquette County Land Clearing association, proposes to clear 30,000 acres in 1921.

Larry Livingston, secretary and directing engineer of the association, in announcing the program for 1921 says that the impetus given land clearing in the county by the 1920 campaign would insure at least a duplication of this year's clearing without the aid of the association.

A compilation of reports and projects indicates that 100,000 acres of land will be cleared in upper Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota in 1921, under the impulse given by the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, which began the first organized land clearing campaign of education in 1914 and has continued it ever since.
